Officials Continue Investigation Into Death of Richards

Thirty Persons Already Questioned; No Report of Progress Made

State's Attorney Morey C. Pires' and Sheriff LeRoy Bates' offices are continuing their investigation into the death of Frank Richards, 48-year-old Negro who died at KSB hospital May 19, as the result of arsenic poisoning.

Pires has revealed that more than 30 persons have been examined thus far in connection with the case, and several of them have been taken to laboratories for tests to determine the truthfulness of their testimony.

It was not revealed what progress has been made in the case.

A coroner's jury recommended at an inquest July 6 at the Jones Funeral home that Pires and Bates office continue their investigation of the case after returning a verdict that Richards died from arsenic poisoning administered by person or persons unknown.

The jury first viewed the body shortly before funeral services were held for Richards May 23 and continued the inquest. Dr. Robert T. Lesage, attending physician, dissatisfied with symptoms apparent in the case then sent away specimens for laboratory examination to determine if poison was present.

The first report stated that none was present but a subsequent report on another specimen showed the presence of arsenic, and an autopsy performed June 20 by Drs. William B. McNally and J. J. Kearns, both of Chicago, confirmed the findings of the second report.

Dr. Lesage had issued a temporary death certificate at the time of Richards' death listing the cause of death as ulcers. He told the jury at the inquest that the ulcer condition and other complications which appeared were the result of the arsenic poisoning.

MacArthur Praised for "Tip-Top" Job

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Senators Ellender (D-La) and Butler (R-Neb) said today Gen. Douglas MacArthur expects to be able soon to carry out the occupation of Japan "with a handful of our troops."

Just back from a 42-day flight that carried them and three house members around the world, the senators credited MacArthur with a tip-top job of organizing and controlling the defeated Japanese.

As for China, however, both senators said in separate interviews they favor speedy withdrawal of all American troops and and immediate end of direct aid to that trouble-beset nation.

"We were all greatly impressed with what General MacArthur has done and is doing in Japan," Ellender, ranking member of the congressional delegation said. "He told us that our troops soon can be cut down until the job can be done with a handful of men."

Expect "Mac" To Remain

Butler affirmed this and added that he expects MacArthur to remain supreme commander in Japan until the job is reduced to a routine.

(War department public relations officials said exact data on the strength of forces in Japan and China is "classified" information which may not be disclosed. They said the latest public announcement was on in October, 1945, that by July 1, 1946, it was hoped to reduce all forces in the Pacific area to 400,000.)

In their comment on China both Ellender and Butler said the current attempt to bring about a truce between opposing factions is an impossible task.

"I Just Live Right" Is Explanation of Man, 99

Monticello, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—James Rankin, 99 who still drives his own automobile and supervises work on two farms, has been honored at a family picnic. "I just live right," Rankin said when asked his recipe for longevity. He smokes three or four cigars daily.

Jeep Aids Farmer to Work, Attend Church

Bethany, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—William Brewer uses a jeep to power his hay baling outfit and has baled more than 32,000 bales this season. He also uses it to haul his baling equipment, and on Sunday he unhitches the jeep and drives it to church.

Lightning Strikes Tanker; 3 Missing

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 6—(AP)—Officers of the stricken tanker Homestead, destroyed by fire and explosion after being struck by lightning at a dock here, continued a search today for three men still unaccounted for many hours after the disaster occurred.

The tanker's captain, Maurice A. Tunstall of Hopkinsville, Ky., said some of the crew of 49, including himself, were ashore when the lightning struck.

Only one crew member sustained injuries requiring hospitalization. Twenty-nine others were treated for cuts and burns.

The Homestead, a War Shipping Administration craft under lease to the Deconhil Shipping Company of San Francisco, was struck by lightning late yesterday while unloading its gasoline cargo at the Standard Oil Company docks here.

Captain Tunstall estimated the loss of both ship and cargo at $3,500,000.

Truman Effort to Unseat Slaughter Meets Test Today

(By The Associated Press)

Missouri's Fifth district voters marked ballots today in a congressional race that promised an insight, by proxy, into the administration's popularity in one segment of President Truman's home state.

The race, involving an attempt by Rep. Roger C. Slaughter (D) to win renomination despite public opposition from the president, drew only a small segment of the voters participating in the day's six primaries—in Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas, New Hampshire, Virginia and West Virginia.

But because Truman said that if Slaughter was right in his fight against White House legislative proposals, the president was wrong, the contest took on an element missing since the late President Roosevelt aided in the 1938 defeat of Rep. John J. O'Connor, New York Democrat. Roosevelt's efforts, however, failed to unseat four other Democrats that year.

Cases Are Similar

Like O'Connor, Slaughter incurred the presidential wrath because of his actions as a member of the powerful house rules committee.

Enos A. Axtell, Truman's choice, and Jerome Walsh, former OPA attorney, fought it out with Slaughter for the Democratic nomination while the president prepared to vote in the adjoining Fourth district at his home town

Justice Department to Probe On-Job Charge

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Justice department today assigned one of its criminal division lawyers to investigate General Omar N. Bradley's statement that "a national scandal" may be brewing in the veterans' on-the-job training program.

Bradley, the veterans administrator, said in a broadcast speech at Milwaukee yesterday that "the dishonest employer and the unthinking veteran have already infected the program of many states."

"Something is wrong," he told a session of the United Spanish War veterans, "when it takes three years to learn to become a stock clerk in one state and three months in another.

The Justice department said Attorney General Tom Clark has directed James Ruffin, of the Criminal division, to confer with Bradley about the matter. Beyond that it would say only that the department is "studying" Bradley's statements.

Public Works Costs Ordered Reduced by 7 Hundred Millions

Federal Program Hit Barrier in Order to Prevent Inflation

Washington, Aug. 6—(AP)—The government's $1,600,000,000 public works program ground to a virtual halt today.

Federal agencies—under presidential edict—set about choosing $700,000,000 worth of construction to defer at least until spring.

Calling the step necessary to "comply with the president's anti-inflation budget," Reconversion Director John R. Steelman yesterday clamped on a three-way moratorium that:

1. Prevents any agency from letting contracts for any new construction during the next 56 days without his express permission:

2. Provides that either Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small or Housing Expediter Wilson W. Wyatt must recommend, and the reconversion director approve, non-deferrable federal construction to be started between Oct. 1, 1946, and April 1, 1947, and

3. Requires the agencies to put on the deferred list at least $700,000,000 worth of construction, some of which may be eliminated entirely.

Seek Deferrable Projects

An official familiar with the moratorium plans told a reporter the search for deferrable projects most likely will turn first to such military construction as warehouses and officers' clubs, some airports, and certain agricultural conservation and reclamation projects.

Another official predicted that careful study also will be given to flood control projects and to public highways.

These officials emphasized, however, that no specific projects to be postponed have yet been chosen. They pointed out that agencies have more than three weeks to review their programs and submit revised estimates to Steelman.

The reconversion director made it clear that the moratorium does not affect contracts already awarded or funds which have been committed for work scheduled to start before Oct. 1.

Exemptions Noted

Also exempted under the order are projects costing no more than $3,000 and veterans housing and hospitals, overseas military projects, the Manhattan atomic

Owner of Gambling Vessel Is Defiant

Long Beach, Calif., Aug. 6—(AP)—The gambling ship "Bunker Hill," owned by Tony Cornero, planned to start operation at 5 o'clock this afternoon seven miles off Long Beach despite a warning by District Attorney Fred N. Howser that the ship would be closed "by one means or another."

The ship has been converted into a floating palace for gambling to accommodate 3,000 patrons. Under escort of shotgun-armed guards, 50 sacks of silver dollars and other sacks full of currency were taken aboard the vessel yesterday, along with roulette wheels and other paraphernalia.

"The chips are down and we're going to operate," said Cornero. "The state has no jurisdiction over us. Any molestation of persons or equipment aboard ship will be treated by us as piracy."

Cornero's ship is registered with the U. S. Maritime Commission. It is a 460-foot converted seaplane tender and is outfitted in all the splendor of a Nevada or Monte Carlo gaming palace.

Michigan Judge Charges State Is Encouraging Program of Free Love

Detroit, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A Detroit jurist was on record today with a charge that unwed mothers are collecting welfare money in Michigan for illicit children conceived under what he termed a state-encouraged program of "free love."

Recorder's Judge Arthur E. Gordon, in an interview, said a study of Detroit court cases shows an "alarming" increase in illegitimacy while unmarried mothers dissipate their government dole on gambling, drinking and the men who fathered their illicit offspring.

"The study showed that there is a definite tendency to put a premium on illegitimacy," he declared.

"To state that every case of illegitimacy is based on fraud would be brutal and unfair," Judge Gordon said. "But why should we squawk about 'free love' and babies supported by the state in totalitarian countries when we do the same thing here—except that our state doesn't train them."

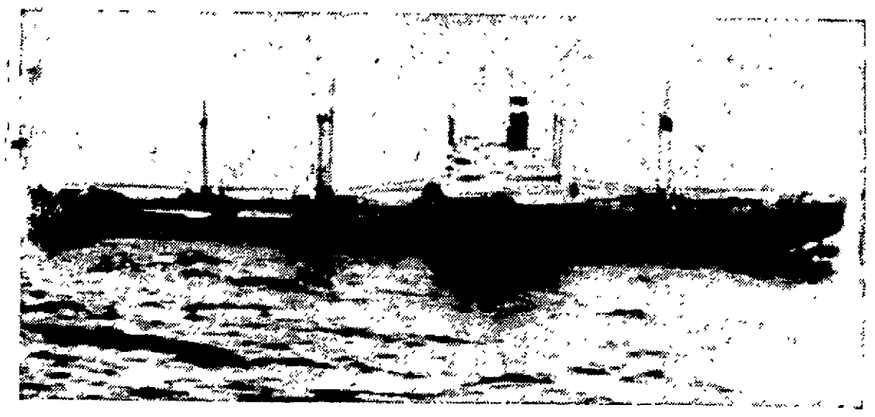
Raids on gambling centers and blind pigs, the jurist said, have resulted in a parade of unmarried mothers through his own and other local courts.

Payments to the mothers are made through the Bureau of Aid to Dependent Children from funds supplied by city, state and county taxes set aside for this purpose.

Fedell Fauri, state head of the bureau, said today that he was not aware of any increase in the number of fraud cases.

Mrs. Helen Bryant, assistant prosecutor assigned to juvenile cases, agreed that there were cases of the kind cited by Judge Gordon, but declared she had not noticed any appreciable increase in their number.

British Claim Her—Yanks Have Her



—NEA Telephoto

A complicated battle of maritime law is expected in Admiralty courts when the freighter American Farmer, owned by the United States Lines, shown above drifting in the Atlantic southwest of Britain, reaches England. The ship, damaged in a collision, was abandoned by her crew, thus becoming the prize of first crew to board her. A British ship reached her first and put a prize crew aboard only to be dispossessed, they claim, by crew from the American freighter American Ranger, sister ship of the $4,500,000 prize.

Dominican Sectors Badly Hit by Quake

Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic, Aug. 6—(AP)— The government rushed aid today to areas south of the Monte Christi mountain range, stricken Sunday by an earthquake and tidal wave which took a toll of at least two dead and damaged more than 11 towns in this Caribbean republic.

Eye witness reports received today from Matanzas on the north coast, said a tidal wave swept inland as much as a mile so swiftly that it caught a party fleeing in an automobile.

The eyewitnesses said the residents had been forewarned, however, when the waters first receded much below the low tide mark and had taken refuge in trees and high places.

Only eight of the 300 houses in Matanzas were reported left standing. At Nagua 50 or 60 houses were destroyed and damaged.

Wrecked telegraph and communication facilities made it difficult to get a clear picture of the damage wrought by the quake, which apparently centered in the deepest point in the Atlantic ocean, approximately 50 miles off the east coast of the Dominican Republic.

Apprehension Grows

Reports from the Matanzas and Nagua regions said that frightened inhabitants had taken refuge in the forests and were suffering from hunger. Authorities were considering dropping food from airplanes.

Meanwhile apprehension gripped the republic as new tremors shook the ground here yesterday and blacked out radio communications for several hours.

Fears were expressed that many regions not yet heard from had been hard hit by Sunday's catastrophe. Most of the suffering was reported to be in the interior of the country.

Another severely hit sector was Santiago, which, with a population of 50,000, was the largest city in the affected area. Reports reaching here said that many buildings

American Farmer Making for Port

London, Aug. 6—(AP)—The collision damaged U. S. merchant ship American Farmer was making for Falmouth at about eight knots today and was expected to arrive there about 8 p.m. (3 p.m. CDT) tomorrow.

The 8,258-ton vessel has a cargo of wheat for bread-rationed Britain. At the end of her voyage she faces a probable legal squabble between British and American companies over $4,500,000 salvage rights.

The American Farmer, owned by the U. S. Lines, was abandoned by her crew after she collided with another American ship Wednesday about 700 miles west of Lands End.

The British ship, Elizabete, only a fourth her size, had the crippled ship in tow when a crew from the American Ranger, sister ship of the Farmer, boarded the damaged ship and got it moving under its own power.

Mortgage Combine Is Named in Court Case

New York, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The anti-trust division of the Department of Justice today filed a civil suit in Federal court against the Mortgage Conference of New York, the Savings Bank Trust Company of New York, and 37 members of the conference, charging a conspiracy to suppress competition in the making of mortgage loans and in operating real estate in the New York City area.

The civil action was the result of a recommendation by a special federal grand jury which, after hearing testimony since June 11, was discharged yesterday by Federal Judge Marion S. Boyd in a closed courtroom.

The mortgage conference was described by a federal prosecutor as composed of insurance companies, savings banks and commercial banks. The Savings Bank Trust Company of New York is wholly owned by various savings banks.

Patrons See Double on Fair's "Twin Day"

Lincoln, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Logan county fair visitors saw double today—it was "Twins Day" and 56 sets got 112 free tickets.

The Lincoln Evening Courier, in conjunction with the fair association, invited twins in the county to write their histories in brief for publication. In return, the twins were given free fair tickets.

Recipients included 24 male sets, 20 female, and 12 with one of each sex.

Drillers Find Gas on Unused Golf Course

Champaign, Ill., Aug. 6—(AP)—Drilling for water on an old golf course, W. M. Leach struck a gas well which the Illinois Geological survey said was a "better than average" producer.

Dr. Carl Bays of the survey said scouts had determined the well was capable of producing 49,000 cubic feet of gas daily but since no information was available concerning the gas reservoir, its development would be "something of a gamble."

Whittles Dynamite Cap and Loses Three Fingers

Murrayville, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Edward Lee Dorsett, 14, whittled on a dynamite cap while attending services at West Union Baptist church near here. It exploded and blew off parts of three of his fingers. Others in the congregation were unhurt.

Police Discourage Rex Plant Pickets

Connersville, Ind., Aug. 6—(AP)—A light rain and the continued presence of a large force of state guardsmen and Indiana state police combined to discourage picketing at the strike-bound Rex manufacturing company plants here today.

Guard officers said only eight pickets were observed near the plants this morning and a Rex official said "about 85 per cent" of the normal number of 900 workers reported for duty on the day shift.

These employees entered the plants unmolested. Twenty pickets were arrested yesterday and were charged with disorderly conduct.

Both company and United Electrical Workers (CIO) awaited a decision from Circuit Judge Allen Wiles on the company's petition to make permanent a temporary restraining order prohibiting pickets from interfering with persons entering the plants.

Ruling Before Night

A hearing on the question continued today and Judge Wiles indicated he would rule on the petition before the temporary restraining order expires tonight.

Adjt. Gen. B. H. Watt described the situation here as "quiet" before he returned to Indianapolis late yesterday, and said there was no intention of establishing martial law.

Liquor stores and bars in the city were closed as a precaution-

Shirts at Lower Prices Expected

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A spokesman for retail clothing merchants said wistfully today that higher textile prices may put $2.25 shirts and 79-cent shorts back on store shelves.

"That's our hope," said Louis Rothschild, executive director of the National Association of Retail Clothiers.

He told a reporter that the average 16 percent increase in cotton textile ceilings put into effect by OPA yesterday "undoubtedly will encourage greater production" of cotton apparel.

"Manufacturers will have an incentive to produce shirts to retail at $2.25 and shorts at 79 cents." Rothschild said. "We haven't had any of those in a long time."

Up to now, Rothschild added, manufacturers have not been able to make a profit on these lower-priced items.

He said they should begin to re-appear in stores in about 30 days.

OPA said the 16 percent textile increase will boost cotton clothing prices six to eight percent and jump the cost of household linens about 17 percent.

Heirens Confesses He Killed Suzanne Degnan This Morn

States Attorney Tuohy of Cook County Gets Admission Today

BULLETIN

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—William Heirens confessed formally today three of the most savage crimes in Chicago's history—the kidnap-killing of Suzanne Degnan, the "lipstick murder" of Frances Brown and the fatal throat slashing of Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43-year-old widow.

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—William Heirens told State's Attorney William J. Tuohy today he strangled six-year-old Suzanne Degnan with his fingers as she lay in her bed and then took her body to the basement of a nearby apartment building and cut it to pieces.

He claimed he was in a sort of daze when he killed the girl. After dropping the parts of her dismembered body in sewers in her neighborhood, he added, he returned to the "dissecting" room and wrote a note demanding $20,000 ransom.

He said he selected his victim entirely by chance. He was in the neighborhood earlier, he related, and observed the window of her bedroom was not closed. It was then he got the idea of entering the house, he added.

Relates Details

Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student, related details of the shocking slaying to Tuohy, a group of police officials and his own attorneys at a "confession conference" in Tuohy's office.

The attorneys said, in preparing for a similar "confession conference" a week earlier that the youth also would confess the "lipstick" slaying last Dec. 10 of Frances Brown, 33-year-old ex-WAVE and the fatal stabbing June 3, 1945 of Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43-year-old widow.

Heirens, in his confession, said he flashed his flashlight in the Degnan girl's room and saw a "female with long hair" asleep. He said his vision was "not too good."

"Then what did you do?" Tuohy asked.

"I strangled her."

"When you strangled her, how did you strangle her?"

"With my fingers."

"Around the neck?"

"Yes."

"Had the child said something to you before you did that?"

'No. She made some utterances. I did not know what they were, too inarticulate to make out."

"How long did you keep your hands on her neck would you say?"

'About two minutes."

"You squeezed as hard as you could?"

"Until everything went limp."

The prosecutor said 'he asked Heirens: "Did you kill Suzanne

Second Fire in 3 Days Hits Taxi Co.

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—A spectacular fire today destroyed a Checker Taxicab Company garage on Chicago's northwest side and with it about 50 cabs, causing an estimated $150,000 damage.

It was the second major fire within three days for Checker Cab and Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said "it may be more than a coincidence." He did not elaborate further but Chief Ray Crane of the uniformed police and deputy chief of detectives John Warren joined firemen in making an investigation.

The company lost 75 cabs Saturday night in a fire that destroyed two north side garages with a loss estimated from $375,000 to $475,000.

Corrigan said today's fire apparently originated in a cab parked near a gasoline pump The blaze which required a 5-11 alarm and a special call in addition, raged furiously for nearly an hour.

Explosions from gasoline pumps and tanks on the cabs punctuated the fire.

A company spokesman and Corrigan estimated the loss at $150,000.

Mead Group Hears May and Garssons Together in Dixie

Washington, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Senate war investigators were said today to be pursuing a tip that Rep. May (D-Ky) vacationed in Miami Beach, Fla., with officials of the Garsson munitions combine in March or April, 1944.

An official of the Mead committee said the group has received information indicating that the Kentucky lawmaker may have been at the Versailles hotel in Miami Beach at some period during that time with Murray and Henry Garsson. The two brothers were guiding lights of the Batavia and Erie Basin Metal Products Companies and other firms in the combine.

Congress was in recess from April 1 to 12, 1944.

In a speech to the house last July 8, May denied specifically that he had received any travel expenses from the Cumberland Lumber Company, an affiliate of the combine, adding that "I never used one penny of anybody's money except my own as travel

Marine Chief Denies Plans to Leave China

Tientsin, Aug. 6—(AP)—The commander of U.S. Marines in China, said flatly today no orders have been given to prepare for their evacuation and indicated there had been some strengthening at one point since the bloody clash with Chinese Communists south east of Peiping, July 29.

Questioned about persistent, unconfirmed rumors in the Chinese press that President Truman had instructed General Marshall to prepare plans for withdrawal of the Marines, Maj. Gen. Keller E. Rockey told the Associated Press in an interview it was the first time he even had heard of it.

General Rockey described the current situation in the Tientsin-Peiping sector as "serious" but expressed belief that the Marines could handle any developments. The Marines, whose withdrawal from China has been demanded by the Communists, are guarding Marine and Navy property, the rail line to Chinwangtao, the highway to Peiping and strategic bridges.

Oak Ridge Quiet on Atom's 1st Birthday

Oak Ridge, Tenn., Aug. 6—(AP)—The atomic age was a year old today and in this historical city where it was born the birthday passed virtually unnoticed.

There was no celebration planned to observe the first anniversary of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima. Instead, scientists who a year ago were awaiting reports on the havoc wrought on the Japanese city today are seeking ways of transforming the awesome forces into peaceful use for mankind.

One by-product of the chain-reacting uranium ovens that helped develop the atomic bomb already has been released to medical science for its war on disease.

This was an infinitesmally small unit of radioactive substance known as carbon 14. Called a "radioisotope," or a ray-emitting form of stable carbon, carbon 14 was ear-marked for research into the causes and possible cure of cancer.

As for the town itself, it has dwindled in population from a wartime peak of about 75,000 persons to 43,000. There are about 38,000 workers.

Estranged Wife Stages Two-Weeks Sit-Down Strike in Spouse's Car

Towson, Md., Aug. 6.—(AP)—The automobile in which Mrs. Edith Gregor of Kingston, Pa., has been staging a sit-down strike for more than two weeks in an effort to effect a reconciliation with her husband disappeared during the night from a Towson parking lot.

Sgt. Cyril Baumiller of the Baltimore county police said today he didn't have any idea who moved the car, nor did he know the whereabouts of Mrs. Gregor; her husband, Elmer C. Gregor, and their 15-year-old daughter Letha.

County police hoped, however, that the Gregors had patched up their martial difficulties and that the sit-down srike which began July 20 was ended.

Baumiller said that a hearing scheduled for this morning for Gregor had been cancelled because the car was moved. "The parking lot belongs to the community," he said in disclosing that Gregor had been ordered to move the automobile.

Gregor had been sending $15 a week for the support of Mrs. Gregor and Lehta, to their Kingston, Pa., home, she told Baumiller, but there was no breakfast money yesterday.

When she arrived here two weeks ago to seek reconciliation, she said, they talked for several hours, reaching no decision. Then Gregor drove to the parking lot and removed the keys and the ignition distributor. Since then Lehta had been bringing food and water to the car.

Girls Urged to Try Nursing Profession Instead of College

Vacancies Still Exist for Applicants; Stressing Economy, Need

Dixon Public Hospital School of Nursing is enrolling a class Sept. 9 1946. As everyone knows Dixon is a community institution with a high community spirit. The School of Nursing is fully accredited by the State of Illinois, and is very desirous of enrolling young women of the community. Enrollment will be closing within the next few weeks.

Recent high school graduates as well as discharged Wacs, Waves, Spars, and women Marines, who are finding it difficult to enroll at this time in overcrowded colleges and vocational schools would do well to give serious consideration to preparing for a nursing career, according to a statement just issued by the Illinois Hospital Association and the Illinois Nursing Council.

"Most of the nursing schools of Illinois still have vacancies in fall classes," the statement continues, "and there is no housing problem at nursing schools because of extensive expansion of nurses' home facilities in recent years at an expenditure of several million dollars.

"Vast postwar expansion of hospital and public health facilities will create many new opportunities in a variety of interesting fields. Nursing is primarily a women's profession and all the top positions are held by women. Discharged Wacs, Waves, Spars, and women Marines may study nursing under the educational provisions of the GI Bill of Rights, since all of the accredited nursing schools in Illinois have been officially approved for such training.

"For the recent high school graduate to whom the expense of advanced education presents a problem, the approved nursing school offers a three-year course leading to state certification as a registered nurse at a cost that is considerably less than that involved in preparing for most other vocations affording comparable opportunities for lucrative employment and future security. It is also possible at many schools of nursing for highly qualified applicants to obtain assistance in the form of scholarships for loans, provided by civic groups or public spirited individuals who feel that no young woman who has the necessary qualifications and a real desire to become a nurse should be prevented from doing so because of a lack of funds.

"Nursing is a lifetime profession in which age does not matter so long as competent service is given. At the same time the nursing course serves as excellent preparation for marriage and motherhood toward which most young women look forward as an ultimate goal."

Women!

Tokyo—(AP)—Japanese women legislators, in their first whirl at law-making, introduced a bill for "peace memorial enterprises" to commemorate Japan's surrender—and were promptly scolded for "unbusinesslike and careless" parliamentary methods.

Rep. Sabruo Shiikuma declared that Japan needs food and reconstruction far more than monuments. And besides, he said, the women failed to consult party leaders beforehand.

Consider Opinions Given on 'Ogling'

New York.—(AP)—Let's give a long, low whistle and consider the seasonal subject of ogling.

In Detroit it's illegal. It has been illegal for years. Although ignorance of the law is no defense, the cops took away even that excuse by announcing in the public prints that there's a law against it.

Ogling mean, in the language of the Detroit police, "looking her over."

If Ogling is a crime in Detroit, it's something else in certain other parts of the country.

Hardly had the wires ceased buzzing with the Detroit edict when Los Angeles' city council decided that the "fad of seminudity"—which sounds like raw material for oglers—is nothing for a city council to look into. It heard a protest, agreed the practice is unsightly, and turned the matter over to the counsel with orders not to report back.

Then at Fort George G. Meade in Maryland, an army post announcement said a beauty contest there would be decided by acclaim including wolf calls.

A chaplain at Camp Kilmer in New Jersey styled whistling at women "low, cheap, cowardly and moronic," while the Newark police got into the middle by saying they wouldn't take notice of unadorned ogling—but let wolf callers beware.

To give a woman the last word, let's quote a New York bookkeeper. She said, quote:

"It all depends on who's ogling."

Unquote.

It has been found that climate has a greater effect on the protein content of wheat than does variety.

COMMISSARY STATE HOSP. FOR HEY BROS. ICE CREAM.

Drop Britain, Join U. S., Barrett Tells Canada in Address

Closer Ties Here Than With Britain, State Official Declares

Kenora, Ont., Aug. 6—(Special)—Attorney General George F. Barrett of Illinois today urged that Canada sever her ties with the British Empire, and that the Canadian provinces take immediate steps to seek full statehood in the United States. Barrett's proposals were made in a speech to the Kenora Rotary club at a meeting in the Kenricia hotel here.

"If there was ever any justification for the bond between Canada and the British Empire," Barrett said, "I submit that that justification has long since disappeared. While there may be those who rebel at the suggestion which I make, because of certain sentimental attachments for the empire, I ask you to consider the many sound and practical reasons why this is the reasonable and logical course for Canada and the United States."

Benefit Both Countries

The Attorney General continued, "I do not contend for one moment that such a step would be of benefit only to Canada. It is my considered opinion that it would benefit both the United States and Canada in the years to come.

"There is closer kinship between Canada and America than there ever was between Canada and the British Empire, or between America and England," Attorney General Barrett added. "We are friends and neighbors not only because of our proximity but also because of the sameness of our backgrounds and traditions. You of Canada and we of the United States come of a common stock. Both nations were formed by adventurous and pioneering stalwarts who loved freedom and opportunity and who were willing to make the sacrifices which made it possible for them to attain their objectives.

"We are adrift today in a power-hungry and territory grabbing world. Neither you in Canada nor we in America seek power or territorial aggrandizement. We ask of the world only that we be allowed to continue our peaceful pursuits. If this mutual desire is to be realized, we must be strong not only in our military might but also in natural resources. As one great nation we would be an invulnerable fortress in a chaotic and troubled world, a bastion which would be impregnable to attack," Barrett reasoned.

Need Vast Capital

"You have, in Canada, great natural resources," Barrett went on, "but in the main those resources remain undeveloped. For their proper development, there must be vast capital investments. The maintenance of Canada as a separate nation has discouraged the investment of American capital in your enterprise. The incorporation of the Canadian provinces into the United States would immediately make available vast sums of money for the development of your latent wealth.

"You of Canada and we of America should not permit a national boundary line—an imaginary line, if you please—to stand in the way of our best interests in this modern world," Barrett concluded. "Let us not permit international rivalry to prevent us from taking a step for which there is such a crying need. Let us not ignore a course which is such a natural and obvious one. Let us join hands to accomplish this glorious objective. Let us pray and work and struggle to achieve this end. Let us go forward as one people and as one nation."

Strategy

Cheny, Wash.— (AP) —For the first time in the school's 6-year history, men will outnumber women students at Eastern College of Education this fall, Registrar George F. Wallace reported yesterday.

Two pretty coeds, he said, asked him to keep the figures secret lest the prospectus attract more women.

When he declined, one was philosophical:

"Oh, well, 50 per cent of the men probably will be married anyway," she said. But the other insisted:

"Just think of that other 50 per cent."

Hollywood

BY HOWARD C HEYN

Hollywood, Aug. 6—(AP)—Louis Calhern, now visiting Glamorville, sends this advice back to the Broadway actors who look at Hollywood with a raised eyebrow: "When you come out here, you'd better be more humble".

Calhern is no newcomer to these parts. He started his east-west commuting in 1920. In spite of the fact that his screen roles seem insignificant compared with his legitimate stage work, he keeps coming back for more. He is now holding down the role of Morosow in "Arch of Triumph".

After watching the film industry grow for 26 years, Calhern said he was definitely impressed with its progress. "Those who use the term 'matured' are certainly choosing the wrong word", he said. "An industry that has made as much money as the motion picture business is certainly more than 'mature'."

Calhern was also happy to see that leading men are getting better breaks. "They are no longer afraid of losing the sympathy of the audience", he said.

He must have seen Dan Duryea picture.

Hollywood turned out en masse last night to congratulate Warner Brothers on the twentieth anniversary of talking pictures. The throng gathered early in the day in front of the Warner's theater to catch a glimpse of stars who attended the premiere of "Night and Day".

The film is worthy of the anniversary and should help make 1946 one of the brothers' most profitable years. Cole Porter's music is beautifully presented in the lavish technicolor production. Acting honors rightly go to Cary Grant and Jane Wyman.

The story, based on Cole Porter's career, is given the Hollywood treatment. Liberties taken with his life may make for a better motion picture, but who was it who said "Truth is stranger than fiction?"

Scientist Reveals New Wonder Aid for Relief of Arthritis and Rheumatic Pain

Prompt relief from symptomatic pain resulting from arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuralgia is now hailed as possible for many, with the release of an amazing new formula recently perfected by Dr Albert Fisher, PhD, laboratory chemist.

So amazingly effective is this sensational preparation that it is acclaimed as a long sought blessing by those who labored to perfect its astounding formula. Containing an ingredient that goes to work with almost magical speed, Emdrin gives quick aid in relieving rheumatic and arthritic pain.

Only Emdrin contains this wonder-working ingredient and those who have been praying for such a formula as this may now try Emdrin without risking a penny. Taken as directed Emdrin must prove satisfactory or money will be refunded. Emdrin is sold at Villiger, Ford Hopkins, and drug stores everywhere.

John H. Wilson Is Given Outstanding Tribute in Hawaii

Man Known in Dixon Is Praised Unstintedly for Citizenship

John H. Wilson, outstanding citizen of Honolulu, who has served in many positions of trust in that city, including the mayoralty and postmastership, and who is well known in Dixon, where he has visited a number of times, was paid an outstanding tribute in an editorial in the Honolulu Advertiser of June 6, last, on the occasion of his resignation as director of the Department of Public Welfare, Territory of Hawaii, U. S. A. The editorial tribute follows.

LEI FOR A MAN WE LIKE

Despite reports to the contrary is is hard for The Advertiser to believe that Johnny Wilson intends to retire from public life when he steps out next month as director of the Department of Public Welfare. And with us the wish is father to the thought.

The vitality and efficiency of the man have not abated over his 50 years of public service which began with the construction of the famous Nuuanu Pali road. He is a good example of that stubborn quality in the human being which knows that "impossible" has no place in the brave man's dictionary. He has always believed in his capacity to do the hard job and has proved that capacity.

He was only 25 years old when he bid $40,000 on the Pali Road contract. The figure of the next lowest bidder was $81,000. Wilson claims that he and his partner L. M. Whitehouse, made money on that job. Engineers with a lot more experience said that for the amount of money you couldn't blast "solid rock" out of the rim of the Koolaus just below Konahuanui. But Wilson knew it wasn't solid rock and he blew 144,000 cubic yards of what it was out of there. The highest cut he made was 114 feet. With $10,000 more he says he could have lowered the pass another 50 feet.

Johnny Wilson has employed the same tactics in the jobs that followed that one—as city engineer of Honolulu, mayor for three terms, postmaster of Honolulu, and director of the Department of Public Welfare. He has always worked best when under fire and he has been signally successful in confounding his enemies. Politically, the term "warhorse" fits him. For 32 years he was Hawaii's member on the Democratic National Committee; the senior on that committee in tenure of membership when he resigned in 1942.

Public life has not made him richer, perhaps poorer in material things. What he has given of himself to his native land he has given with that zest which is its own compensation. He has made nothing out of his civic and political career. We call that honesty, but maybe it is just because he never had time to look in that direction.

Digest of the News for

Poultry Raisers

A Weekly Letter by Frank Priebe

For the last few years all a turkey grower had to worry about was getting his turkeys raised.

It was no trick to sell them. The Army took most of the crop and civilians clamored for the few that were left.

This year it's different.

And turkey growers realize they have a marketing problem.

We can't overlook the fact that over 80,000,000 pounds of last year's turkeys are still in storage—uneaten. And, with meat available again, there doesn't seem to be much chance of their being cleaned up before this year's crop hits the market.

That carry-over is bound to affect market values this season.

Birds Should Be Finished

Turkeys will bring less than they did last year. There's no question about that. And it's costing more to produce them. So some growers will be in a hurry to get rid of their birds.

But nothing could wreck the market faster than flooding it with immature, unfinished birds. Nobody wants them.

And this year, of all years, it's important that people should want turkeys.

A housewife going to buy a turkey isn't going to quibble much about the price if the bird is good. But if it's thin and pinny (as turkeys are if they're sold before they're finished), she'll have to be persuaded to buy it, even at a low price.

There's a lot of talk about schemes for getting people to eat more turkeys—selling half-turkeys, and cut-up turkeys, and so on.

There's a lot of talk about whether large turkeys or small turkeys will sell better.

But in considering all the ideas for stimulating the sale of turkeys, let's not forget the one thing that will do more than anything else to increase the demand for them: Let's be sure they're GOOD turkeys!

Turkeys Are a Good Buy

People have ben buying meat, because there was a long time when they couldn't get it and they were hungry for it. So there has been almost no sale for poultry of any kind the last few weeks.

But now consumers are beginning to consider the cost.

And I am convinced that when housewives and restaurants start considering costs, they're going back to turkeys, because turkeys are a good buy.

If growers want to protect their market, they'll make sure that ssales are neither discouraged nor lost because of poor quality. There's only one right time to sell turkeys—and that's when they're ready for market.

Heavy Douglas Plane Crashes; Crew Safe

Los Angeles, Aug. 6—(AP)—A Douglas C-74 Globemaster, largest plane now used by the army, crashed with an earth-shaking roar within a few hunred feet of a million-barrel oil storage tank yesterday but the four crew members escaped by parachuting.

Pilot Russell K. Thaw, famed racing and test flier, received minor injuries He told a sheriff's deputy the "wing fell off." Thaw is the son of Harry K. Thaw, wealthy New York playboy of the early 1900's.

Only last week Douglas announced that the same plane, piloted by Thaw, established what the army said was a world record by lifting 172,000 pounds, more than twice its own weight.

Ogle County Farm Bureau Notes

Soil samples from 390 Ogle county farms have been tested at the Ogle County Farm Bureau laboratory since September 1, 1945, and with the samples now on hand to be tested the total for a 12 month period ending August 31 will include more than 450 farms, according to adviser D. E. Warren.

The report shows 2781 samples tested, covering 11,919 acres. There were 2603 samples tested for acidity and they showed an average need of 2½ tons of limestone per acre. Forty-three per cent of the samples showed of only 2 tons of limestone per acre, many of these fields having previously been limed. Fifteen percent needed no limestone and 16% needed 4 tons per acre.

The 2296 samples tested for phosphorus showed 73% of the soils tested to be low in available phosphorus, 15% slight, 7% medium, and 5% high. The 73% testing low do not contain enough phosphorous to produce a satisfactory legum crop.

There were 2082 samples tested for potash showing 8% to contain less than 100 pounds of soluble potassium per acre, 27% with 150 to 200 pounds per acre and 36% having 200 pounds or more of soluble potassium per acre. The condition of the soils in regard to potash was reported to be much better than with respect to phosphorus.

Warren states that if these tests can be considered average for the whole of Ogle county, it would require 900,000 tons of limestone, 64,000 tons of 20% super phosphate and 37,000 tons of 50% muriate of potash to bring the crop land of the county up to a level of maximum crop production and supply the needs of an average 4-year rotation.

Soil treatments with fertilizers he said should always be made in connection with use of a good rotation of crops including a legume crop at least every four years.

Attractive prices are available for winners in the Ogle County Conservation Contest according to Everett Johnson, chairman of the Ogle District Directors. Useful farm equipment, money, and merchandise are included in donations from businessmen serving the county.

A farm wagon equipped with rubber tires is included in the list of awards This valuable piece of farm equipment is being given one of the successful contestants by the Gronewald Farm Store, Vietmeier Auto and Implement Co., Robel Farm Implements, and Ratmeyer's Farm Equipment all of Forreston

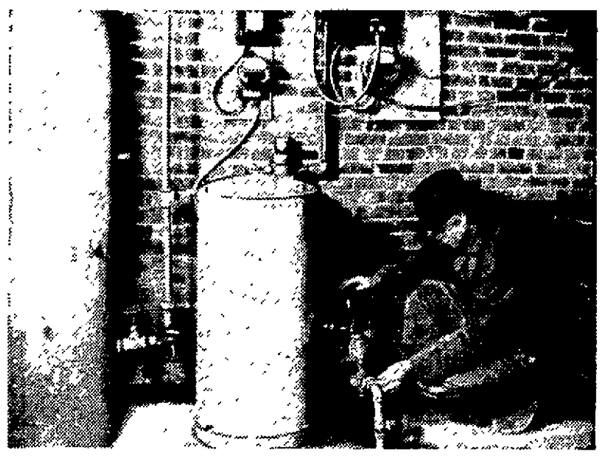
Entry blanks which have been received indicate that conservation farmers in all parts of the county are interested in the competition. The directors are planning a field day on September 12 Winners will be announced on that occasion.

In 1790, the U.S. Coast Guard, at that time the U. S. Revenue Marine, was founded by Alexander Hamilton to operate against smugglers. The second act of the first Congress provided an appropriation for 10 cutters to assure collection of customs.

Drudgery of Pumping, Carrying Water Makes Way for Progress

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

No longer a luxury item on modern, progressive farms, an automatic pressure water system, with water piped to every point where it will be useful, provides the entire farm family with many "city" benefits to add to the joys of healthful rural living.



RURAL ELECTRIFICATION—takes over the farm pumping chore.

Pumping and carrying water by hand is one of the most annoying and time consuming of farm chores. No small boy toting water for a circus elephant ever became more discouraged about completing his task than the farm youngster, his dad, mother or the hired man in performing the unending job of keeping stock tanks, hog and chicken waterers filled Supplying water for cooking washing, bathing and the garden presents additional burdens, when the job is done manually.

Water is the life stream of farm production. An adequate water supply at all times means that cows give more milk hogs, cattle and other livestock put on weight faster, gardens grow more vegetables, hens lay more eggs and poultry grow larger. United States Department of Agriculture figures show that the daily consumption of water on the farm totals 35 gallons for each member of the family, 35 gallons per milk cow, 12 gallons per steer, dry cow and horse; 3 gallons per hog, 2 gallons per sheep and 3 gallons for each 100 chickens

Electric water systems pay for themselves within 2 years on most farms in greater profits realized from farm products and in saving farmers time and manpower to expand their activities The average farm family should plan on a system which pumps about 500 gallons of water an hour. Power costs are low, one dairy farmer reporting that electricity, consumed in supplying 1,000 gallons of water for his needs, costs him only 3 cents. Surveys of 6 typical Illinois dairy farms record that requirements of water for each were provided at an average electrical consumption of 33 kilowatt hours of power per month Studies made on an Ohio test farm showed that the installation of an automatic pressure water system saved the operator 35 hours of "pumping and toting" time per month, and that he used this "free" time to farm more land and milk more cows.

Aside from the dollars and cents value directly received, running water provides protection against the farm fire bugaboo. Also, public health records indicate that the installation of a pressure water system in the farm home improves health conditions more than 50 percent.

In planning a water system, farmers should consult their dealers or power suppliers for assistance in determining the proper piping layout, the type of pump needed (deep or shallow well) and its proper location.

Underweight Hogs Flow Into Market

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—Two dollar corn and possibility of price ceiling renewal later this month were seen today as responsible for marketing of underweight hogs. Uncertainties over future prices also were stripping feed lots of cattle, some of which were not being fed to fullest weight.

Despite the fact that hogs and cattle are bringing around the best prices in history, livestock observers said it wasn't profitable to put extra weight on the animals giving them a corn diet. Corn is too precious a commodity.

Processors are bidding around $2.08 a bushel for old crop corn deliverable within 10 days. The former OPA ceiling was $1.46½. Bids for new crop corn, not yet harvested, are much lower at $1.38 for shipment before Dec. 15.

The agriculture department said the percentage of underweight hogs, as well as sows, now coming to market was "greater than normal." A large meat packer agreed, but added the situation was not considered "alarming" in terms of future meat supplies.

A three-man de-control board will decide if ceilings are to be renewed on livestock and grains on August 21. It is firmly believed in livestock circles— by meat packers, farmers and agriculture department representatives—that if ceilings are renewed they will be at higher levels than formerly.

Perfect Safety Record Posted by 18 Airlines

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—Eighteen air lines completed their 1945 operations without a single fatal accident, the National Safety council said today.

Winner among the largest air lines—those flying more than 125,000,000 passenger miles in 1945—was United Air Lines, Inc., which won the council's aviation safety award for the second consecutive year. United has flown 1,655,872,324 passenger miles since its last fatal accident on May 1, 1942.

Three other large air lines also had no-fatality records for the year. They were Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc. (Trans World Airlines), 55,094,118 passenger miles since its last fatality: Braniff Airways, Inc., 476,574,900; and Northwest Airlines, Inc., 440,003,618

Among the air lines flying between 30,000,000 to 125,000,000 passenge miles in 1945, Delta Air lines was the group winner with a perfect record in 1945 and 311,840,152 passenger miles since its last fatal accident in 1935.

Range Paralysis Serious Poultry Disease Hazard

Range paralysis is one of the most serious diseases affecting chickens in Illinois poultry flocks, states Dr. H. S. Bryan, College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Illinois.

Chickens of all breeds and both sexes are susceptible to range paralysis, technically known as the avian leukosis complex. The disease usually attacks young chickens between the age of two and five months. One or both legs may become partially or completely paralyzed. Drooping of the wings frequently, but not always, appears.

There is no cure for range paralysis, declares Dr. Bryan, who adds that even the transmission of the disease is not well known. He recommends some measures which will help in controlling it:

Recommendations

1. Kill and burn all diseased birds. The breeding flocks should be culled regularly and birds showing clinical symptoms of paralysis should be culled out.

2. Obtain eggs for hatching purposes only from disease-free flocks.

3. Obtain baby chicks only from flocks in which the disease has never been known to occur or from flocks that have demonstrated a high resistance to the disease as indicated by only negligible losses following an outbreak.

4. Keep houses, feed, ground and water clean in order to check possible spread of the disease.

5. Do not allow adjoining flocks to intermingle.

6. Either plow or spade the ground near the laying houses, or keep all birds confined in clean houses.

7. Do not bring birds from shows or exhibitions into the flock.

8. Keep external parasites in check at all times.

Further information concerning range paralysis may be obtained from the College of Veterinary Medicine, Urbana, Illinois.

Low Pastures Ahead, States Husbandman

"The most critical part of the pasture season is right ahead of us," warns M. H. Alexander, associate in dairy husbandry at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

"Bluegrass, the principal pasture in Illinois, is at its poorest during July and August and early September," declares Alexander, "and if farmers haven't planted a supplemental pasture they should do so now."

A Sudan and soybean mixture is suggested by the dairy expert. Such a pasture will be ready for grazing in a month and will last until the end of September.

If farmers can't get their Sudan in right away, however, they should make plans for alternate grazing on the bluegrass pasture. The bluegrass needs time to recuperate, he points out. If alfalfa or clover is available, cattle can be turned to it while the blue grass picks up.

Plans should be made this year says Alexander, so that next year continuous pastures will be available. "There is probably no other single thing that you can do that will be equal to this in increasing your profits from your dairy herd."

Readers may request Illinois Bulletin 505 from the College of Agriculture at Urbana for further information on pasture improvement.

U. S. railroads used 124,114,000 tons of bituminous coal in 1945.

LAW ON THE FARM

By H. W. HANNAH

Associate Professor of Agricultural Economics
College of Agriculture University of Illinois
(Member of Illinois Bar)

Wills—Generally speaking, good wills are not so difficult to prepare as most people believe. Bad wills are nearly always a result of wanting to provide for too many contingencies, hasty preparation, bad grammar or failure to regard the fairly simple requirements of the law.

The Illinois legislature has definitely set out the essential elements of a valid will. Briefly stated, they are as follows:

1. A person 18 years old, of sound mind and memory, may make a will.

2. The will must be in writing and signed by the maker or by someone in his presence by his direction.

3. The will must be witnessed and signed in the presence by the maker by two credible witnesses who will swear before the County court that they saw the deceased sign the will, or that they acknowledged it to be his act.

Dates and addresses are not necessary in a will, although it is a good plan to insert a date showing when it was made. The language should be simple and direct so that it will not be misinterpreted. Due to the fact that courts have had to construe the meaning of particular phrases in wills and have found it necessary to give them meaning which may not always correspond with the maker's intent, it is worth while to consult a competent lawyer about the wording of the instrument.

Wills may be used to dispose of all kinds of property, both real and personal, to create trusts or to give many different kinds of limited interests to desired parties.

The following will is adequate to give all a man's property to his wife:

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT
June 1, 1946

I give all my property, both real and personal, to my wife, Sarah.

John Jones (Signature)
Witness
Mary Brown (Signature)
Witness

Frequently persons in their last illness, under conditions making the execution of a written will impracticable, wish to make a testamentary disposition of their property. The legislature has provided that under such circumstances personal property can be conveyed by an oral statement, provided it is heard by two disinterested witnesses and committed to writing within 20 days after it is made, and provided further that it shall be proved by two other disinterested witnesses that the will was committed to writing within 10 days after the maker's death. Real estate cannot be disposed of in this manner.

The statutory law on wills may be found in Chapter 3 of the Illinois Revised Statutes, sections 193-245. Methods of revocation are stated in section 197.

AMUSING TYPOGRAPHICAL BONER

Not so long ago a magazine spoke of enhancing windows, but again the operator bungled it up in the sentence, "Nothing gives a greater variety to the appearance of a house than a few undraped widows." That reminds me of the time a paper declared editorially that "widows on Laurel Boulevard need washing."

PUBLIC SALE OF
FARM and PASTURE

The heirs of Ira M. Lehman, who was the owner at the time of his death of a farm of 176 acres located 3 miles west of Franklin Grove, will offer it for sale at public auction on

THURS., AUGUST 15th
AT 2:00 P. M.

The farm is in two parts, one of which contains 126 acres and the other 50 acres. The buildings which are on the 126 acre tract, are the first set of buildings on the west side of the road which runs northwesterly from the Lincoln Highway 3 miles west of Franklin Grove.

The farm land has all been limed and is highly productive. There is a dairy barn 40x100 with stanchions for 16 cows; double corn crib 28x40; chicken house; tile silo 14x40; large house, and several small outbuildings. All buildings are wired. The house will be open for inspection on August 13th and 14th and the rest of the farm may be inspected at any time.

PASTURE ON FRANKLIN CREEK

The 50 acre pasture is located on the north side of the old mill race between the Sunday bridge and the mill. Franklin Creek runs through a large part of it. This tract will be offered separately from the rest of the farm.

TERMS OF SALE—Twenty per cent in cash on the day of sale and the balance on March 1, 1947, when possession will be given. An abstract of title will be furnished. The sale will be held at the buildings.

Bureaucracy in Action

As a prime example of bureaucracy in action, we commend the recent train of events which resulted in postponing the Maritime Commission's construction of seven passenger ships for operation by American lines.

On July 2, Vice Adm. W. W. Smith, Maritime Commission chairman, wrote to Reconversion Director John R. Steelman, inquiring about this construction program and apparently asking authorization to get on with it. A week later the Navy Department recommended that construction proceed without delay, since it was interested in having fast passenger ships available for emergency conversion to transports.

On July 17, Dr. Steelman, in the name of the president, told Admiral Smith to postpone awarding contracts for two luxury liners for the South American trade for at least a year, and to hold up scheduled construction of five other liners while the whole project was re-examined.

This was the first notice to American shipbuilders and operators that the program to build fast liners for international competition was halted.

Dr. Steelman gave as reasons for the cancellation a shortage of materials, the heavy tax burden of construction costs and operating deficits, "substantial naval construction" and reconversion and repair work.

Yet at this time of material shortages, the State Department was approving an Export-Import Bank loan to Chile to buy American steel for ships to be built in Britain, while the Civilian Production Administration was increasing Britain's steel allocation by 50,000 tons for this purpose.

The two cancelled liners for our "good neighbor fleet" would have taken less steel than the five Chilean cargo vessels to be built with American steel and financed by an American loan.

As for construction costs, the Shipbuilders Council of America pointed out in a letter to Dr. Steelman that shipyard wages are up 38 cents an hour since the war began, largely through government influence and effort. Now, the letter continued, the shipyard workers, having been given their demands, are having their work taken from them.

The council quoted Navy figures to show that naval construction is rapidly being completed, and that there are no naval contracts for new ships in fiscal 1947. It quoted the Bureau of Labor Statistics to show that by Jan. 1 there will be only about 130,000 workers in private shipyards, as against 223,600 in May, 304,600 last December, and a wartime peak of 1,396,400.

All this would seem to indicate a lack of co-ordinated information and policy among the various government agencies concerned. And it makes one wonder: Did Dr. Steelman have all the facts at hand when he issued this drastic order Why did he not even consult the shipbuilders and operators whose business he is running?

And what has become of all the wartime plans to make this country a great maritime nation in peace, with an adequate, expandable nucleus of builders and operators in the interest of our national defense?

Fair Enough

by Westbrook Pegler

(Copyright, 1946, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

New York—The reason I have paid so much attention to the American Veterans' Committee, a new outfit operating out of a New York headquarters, is that I think it has enjoyed an unfair advantage in slanted news coverage by writers who are intellectual dishonest and sling the terms "liberal" and "progressive" into their pieces to promote measures which are dangerous or, anyway, unwise.

Let us forget about communism. The communists are now pals with the Peron government of Argentina, just as they were with Hitler when it suited their purpose so to be. The AVC urges "continued opposition to the Argentine government" as a "potential threat to world peace" so here it disagrees with Moscow. I recognize its right to take their position, but I say it is bad manners and dangerous business for us to "oppose" the government of any other country. If we do that, we have no right to complain against the interference of the world communists in our internal affairs. Possibly all veterans want to subscribe to that but if not, those who don't should know that this is one of the things that the AVC stands for.

The young fellows that I met at headquarters, Charles Bolte, Gil Harrison and Edward McHale, are smart and full of ideas and busting with energy. Building up the AVC is a job and I might say a competitive game with them, the principal competitor among the new outfits being the American Veterans of World War II or AMVETS. The AVC are now trying to raise a million dollars to spend on organizing but I doubt that they will get all that and I think their publicity is out of proportion to their strength inasmuch as they have only 60,000 members to date, notwithstanding the clamor.

Let us pick some items out of the AVC's platform. They say the last vestiges of fascism should be destroyed in Germany and Japan an dthat they should be "deindustrialized," one of those jargon jawbreakers that fill the air these days.

Well, I am sorry, but it is inconsistent to holler for freedom of conscience and belief and then say we have got to eradicate the political beliefs of others, because we disagree with them and I say that the harsher the methods we use the greater the resistance wil be in the subjects. Then, too, I detect in their own program proposals which seem to me to be fascist, such as the one providing $25 a week for 26 weeks for anyone who is out of a job because he refuses to cross a picket line. Nobody is entitled to six months a year off at the expense of people who keep on working and paying taxes, but even if you do agree that people who are actually out of work for no fault of their own deserve a dole are you going to invite all the unioneers to pull strikes off-hand and throw millions onto the relief rolls?

Any communist or underworld thug, such as Joe Fay in New York, can call a strike at will and send pickets to a plant whose presence would make a couple of thousand workers eligible for $25 a week. In no time, the communists could tie us in knots. Mussolini was a great fellow among the Italian workers, whatever you may hear to the contrary, because he told them he was their pal and their papa and anybody who can give $25 a week to X millions of Americans who want to go to the ball games or take little side jobs while they are "unemployed" can build up a powerful following with the public's money, as long as it lasts. I don't know whether these kids even know that there is no real legal definition of a strike.

They may not know that any bum controlling a little local can pull a strike to ingratiate himself with his members by getting them $25 a week for loafing. He doesn't have to give any reason for a strike. He just strikes and then these young amateur politicians would start shoveling out money to the "unemployed."

"Deindustrialize" Germany? The purpose of that proposal, way back was to eliminate a highly efficient and productive competitor of Britain and France in "industrial" production. It got so that even Italy and Japan were "industrial' 'and Russia was coming along but the Germans were the best of the lot.

So now we would "deindustrialize" them so as to take a leading competitor permanently out of the play and make clods of the Germans forever. We can look to our own south for an earlier experiment in that, and we can look to some of the loudest exponents of that program in Germany, for some of the most mournful lamentations over the stupidity of the north and the prolonged economic and social "backwardness" of the southern states. Now they are blaming northern industrialists for that, but regardless of where the guilt may lie, the condition, itself is what they deplore and yet they advocate the same condition in Germany. I see no peace down that road.

Then AVC says, in its summary, that it "backed universal lowering of immigration barriers to all displaced persons." I don't find that in any resolution but that is what the summary says and drawing a plain meaning from plain language I suppose they would invite all DP's in Europe to rush over here. Any veteran who believes in that should join the AVC.

I told you yesterday that they want to sever relations with Spain and propose a boycott to force Franco out and restore the "government in exile." That probably would mean civil war again in Spain and a few hundred thousand more dead and renewed hatred of the United States by a people who might be beginning to like us. Here they agree with the communists but that may be only a temporary agreement because Stalin may shake hands with Franco tomorrow and make monkeys of us if we should adopt any such attitude.

The young men thought I did them wrong recently in reporting that they had adopted a slippery resolution purporting to reject a bonus for veterans but actually threatening to demand a bonus a little later. The resolution that I thought was adopted really was rejected but I think the fault was at least as much theirs as mine because it was slugged "addendum to Platform" in their bulletin. The head said, "defeated bonus proposal," and I construed the word "defeated" as a verb whereas they meant it as an adjective. Anyway, I readily promised to make it clear that the resolution was not adopted.

They came on with a rush in a great flurry of propaganda but they have only one organizer in the field now and, from now on, I believe, they will have to sell their program strictly on its merits which is all right with them, I am sure, because they want intelligent and critical members. Other intelligent and critical veterans, naturally will want nothing to do with most of their program.

Deaths

MRS. ANNIE C. BURTON

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 6 — (AP)—Mrs. Annie C. Burton, 83, who had attained recognition as a poet and as author of one song, "Illinois," died here yesterday. She was the mother of C. W. Burton, Madison county state's attorney.

MRS. MARY E. TROUTH

(Contributed)

Mrs. Mary E. Trouth was born on November 30, 1879 in Palmyra township Lee county, Ill., a daughter of Alfred A. and Elisabeth Beede, and her entire life was spent in that vicinity. Her death terminated a long illness. She passed away on Friday, August 2, 1946.

She is survived by a son, Robert of Franklin Grove; two daughters, Mrs. LeRoy Toms of Polo and Mrs. Louis Plock of Dixon; two grandchildren; two brothers, Frank and Charles Beede, both of Dixon. Her husband, John Trouth, preceded her in death on August 4, 1937. Two daughters and three sons also died previously.

The funeral service was held at the Sugar Grove church on Monday, August 5th, in charge of the Rev. Geo. D. Nielsen, pastor of the Grace Evangelical church of Dixon. Mrs. Charles Redebaugh and Mrs. Crawford Thomas sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "In the Garden," accompanied by Mrs. Lila Hart. Interment was at the Sugar Grove cemetery.

Bus Crash Victims to Remain in Hospital

Chicago, Aug. 6—(AP)—Four of 38 passengers who were injured last night when a Greyhound bus skidded on a wet pavement and overturned on the beach of Lake Michigan remained in hospitals today. None, however, was in serious condition.

The 34 other passengers were treated for cuts and bruises and released from two south side hospitals. All the passengers, imperiled by the threat of possible fire as gasoline drenched the bus, were rescued by policemen, firemen and bathers who smashed windows in the overturned bus and assisted them to climb out.

The bus driver, Ralph A. Rodgers, 41, of Maumee, O., who awaited arraignment in Safety court on a charge of reckless driving, told police the bus went out of control as he approached a curve. He suffered minor injuries.

The bus, which left New York Sunday, was within a few miles of the downtown station when the accident occurred at South 57th street in Jackson Park.

INSIDE YOUR CONGRESS

Congress Adjourns

Washington, D. C.—By vetoing the first OPA bill on June 30th, President Truman strengthened himself for a short time. By the same token he put Congress on the spot—for a short time. Now however, the feeling in Congress is that the hot political potato is in the hands of the men in the White House. By saying the second OPA bill is "better" than the one he vetoed, he has assumed the political responsibility that it will work.

But prices will rise anyway in the next few months. Even OPA officials agree, and are allowing it. So who will get the blame?

If meat, for example, which for the first time, without any OPA became honest and plentiful, again goes under the counter, where will the country pin the responsibility? All told, it is now believed that Truman made a serious error politically by his June 30th veto.

Republican members of the House and Senate are disappointed in Senator Taft's leadership. There is a feeling that he fights bravely at the beginning and then flinches at the final barrier. This has been charged to his account both in the OPA fight and on the Wagner-Ellender-Taft public housing bill. He told a House Committee, considering that bill, that "the private enterprise system does provide food and clothing but housing is not provided by the private enterprise system under present conditions."

Taft's colleagues felt that this was a wholly gratuitous concession to the socialists. One might ask the Senator who built the 29 million non-farm houses in America? And, then turning to socialistic housing, who built the Tugwell town of Arthurdale, which the government has just stepped out from under at a huge loss to the taxpayers and home builders of the country? Perhaps, if they paid less taxes to cover government deficits, they could build more and better houses.

His attention might be called to the plight of an Ohio housing contractor who has just been penalized $15,000 by the government for building houses for $1,400 less than the official ceiling! The contractor's offense was that he paid his men too much and consequently got more efficient work done than the federal government contemplates.

Some minority members of the Senate feel that the coming leader of their group is Kenneth Wherry, the hard-hitting ball of fire from Nebraska, who defeated the veteran Senator Norris in 1942 and now is minority whip.

Congressman Coffee of Washington has developed the interesting suggestion that campaign contributions made after an election need not be reported under the Corrupt Practices Act, and are also not subject to income tax. If the law is thus deficient, the door is wide open to the secret purchase of influence.

With reference to Congressman May, many members of the House feel that the mountaineer from Kentucky was taken for a ride by city slickers, who played on his vanity and used him to their advantage, rather than that he was personally corrupt. Anyhow, the people who hired the Garsson outfit, and gave them prestige and standing, were in the executive departments of government.

May also had views as to the control of the atomic bomb, which did not coincide with those who think Russia can do no wrong. The way the left-wing journals ordered big headlines on May, and small print on New Dealer Coffee, is not be overlooked.

It would be wise, as well as only fair, to suspend judgment until all the facts are brought out.

Harmon

JOEL LEHMAN

Mrs. Harry Ostrander has improved so much that she is expected to come home this week.

Frank Smallwood and Ray Hicks left for a trip through the Black Hills and the west. Their trip has not been definitely decided but one state they are sure to see is California. From there they will go to Oregon to visit relatives and on their return trip they will come back through Texas.

The chicken supper at the Methodist church is scheduled for Thursday night and the ladies will begin serving at 5 o'clock. These suppers have been drawing large crowds and it is one occasion where many friends meet. Come early or late.

Lowell Smallwood has been helping with the harvest at Hack Barths. He will be in Harmon again this week.

Mrs. Harry Willstead is improving at the Dixon hospital from an operation.

The W. S. C. S. had a very good time last Thursday at the home of Caroline Watkins in Dixon. There was a basket dinner and the regular meeting was held in the afternoon. Among the visitors were Lottie and George Ross, of Sterling, Ada K. Carr, of Springfield, and Flora Smallwood of Harmon.

Jim Heiden and his wife Avis was the scene of a happy birthday party Sunday in honor of Eddie Tyne at Polo.

The Bontz home in Harmon are back in Harmon. Jim is getting along fine and these young people have the good wishes of their many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Smallwood motored to the Pines last Sunday and later they visited with Mrs. Ida Eveen, the mother of Mrs. Bontz. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lloyd and family, of Dixon; Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bontz and son Danny, of Rock Falls. The following from Harmon also came: Mr. and Mrs. Pliny McCarter, Elma Rhodenbaugh and daughter Edna Louise, and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Bontz and daughter Barbara Ann. Mrs. Ida Eveen is now seventy-nine years old and is enjoying good health.

Miss Lavon Brooks visited at the Perkins home Tuesday evening and left Wednesday night for Lake Geneva. She has a two week's vacation.

Sue Knoll went to Chicago Saturday to visit Mrs. Shutten. Mrs. Shutten was formerly Genevieve Brooks.

Mrs. C. E. Allen and Marilyn and Bobby of Alexandria, Va., are now visiting with the Al Clatworthy family.

Mary Leonard spent the week with relatives and friends in Sterling.

Mrs. O'Connel and Jane visited with the former's sister, Mrs. Nettie Roehlic, at Peoria.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blackburn and daughter left for Paducah, Ky., the home of Mrs. Blackburn's parents.

The Donald Geldeans entertained for dinner Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hawkins and Dickie also Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jokerst and Denny of Sterling.

There were thirty present at the W. S. C. S. meeting at the home of Caroline Watkins in Dixon.

Another noted place that Frank Smallwood and Raymond Hicks are going to visit on their trip is the Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Egler and family, of Rockford, also Mr. and Mrs. Jack Marquis, of Dixon, were Sunday dinner guests in the Donald R. Andrews home.

Billy Egler returned home with his parents after a week's visit with his aunt and uncle.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kersten, of Ashton, were Harmon callers Sunday.

Four Harmon baseball teams were in contests last Sunday. On the school diamond the Harmon third team played a team composed of men and the Old Timers won by a 25 to 23 score. On the regular league diamond the Harmon Juniors played against Pitzers team of South Dixon. In this game the Harmon Juniors won by a 21 to 15 score. The Harmon league team played the Amboy league team at Amboy and in that game the score was 15 to 5 in favor of Amboy. Next Sunday the Cherry league team comes to Harmon. With all this interest in baseball in Harmon the chances are that Harmon may have very good baseball players as practice and early experience are two important factors for baseball success. The Harmon Juniors are planning to go to Maytown next Sunday.

Sunday, Aug. 26 is membership Sunday at the Methodist church. It is the expectation that a high percent of the members will be present that day as the roll is to be called for members present. Special music is on the program and Rev. Hobb is getting some history of the first choir that sang in the church. It should be interesting to hear the names of that famous choir.

Arelen Putard was visiting with Mary Jackson Sunday and accompanied her to the ball game.

Lorraine Stonesifer and Elizabeth Jacobs returned Sunday from the girls camp at Camp Aurora on Lake Geneva, Wis. There were 125 girls present and there was a faculty of 12 and 8 sponsors. The girls had a grand time. There was swimming, horseback riding and rides on sail boats. There were classes for training in handcraft, music, various sports, meditation, etc. According to the statement of the Dean this was one of he best weeks in the history of the camp. It happened in one cabin that two dollars were missing in the purse of a girl that came there for her first time. This girl only had three dollars for the week and she was quite worried. After a meeting of all the girls in the cabin it was decided that the purse and the one dollar should be put under the pillow again and if the two dollars would get back in the purse again no one would be blamed and no report would be made to the dean. It happened that shortly afterwards the two dollars were returned and no one was blamed and all were happy. A spirit of good will and cooperation seemed to take over this year and it was a week of training for good citizenship.

THE STORY: Corinna tells me that Cecily had been secretly engaged to Stevie Ralston but gave him back his fraternity pin after a quarrel about Val. And Val is mad at Cecily because she took Stevie's pin in the first place.

XIII

ANOTHER new experience was awaiting Cecily at Della's. Stevie Ralston had gone home to pour his wrath into his mother's ears while Cecily was sitting in her coupe outside Downs' being told by the president of her sorority that Val was not acceptable to the club as one of its "dates."

Myrtle Ralston, evidently afraid of the emotional dynamite of the inevitable reconciliation, got on the phone with no time lost.

"Mrs. Halliday," she said lightly to Della, "this is almost too childish to bother you with, but my son has just told me that he and your daughter have considered themselves secretly engaged this past semester."

Mrs. Ralston was in no position even to guess what great good news she had given Della. Let Myrtle Ralston try shutting doors now on Stevie's future mother-in-law!

"I can't say I'm surprised," Della said sweetly. "After all, they've been crazy about each other since they were babies."

"I suppose we should have been warned," Mrs. Ralston agreed. "But I never dreamed they were taking their friendship so seriously! We've never allowed Stevie to go steady with any one girl, but of course he has dated Cecily more frequently than anyone else—"

"And if he has," said Della, nettled, "it was because he asked her well in advance. Cecily has always been able to take her choice."

Mrs. Ralston was no fool. She caught the hint of matters below the surface.

"Of course she has been popular, Mrs. Halliday," she said cautiously. "Cecily is a very attractive girl. And of course you want her to be sure that she's in love—"

"Apparently she's made her choice," said Della.

Mrs. Ralston asked incredulously, "You don't mean that you'd approve—at Cecily's age—"

"Cecily is very mature for 17," Della said. "I can trust her judgment."

"How fortunate you are!" Mrs. Ralston indulged in an injudicious feline laugh that rubbed Della the wrong way even more than her words had done. "All this wild talk about killing Val if he doesn't leave Cecily alone convinces me more than ever that Steve is still an adolescent at 19!"

* * *

"I DON'T know why," said Della, spinning things out so that she might savor them to the full. "Older men fight when someone tries to cut in on their women." She used the last word maliciously. "It's quite natural."

"It may be natural," Mrs. Ralston conceded icily, "but you'd feel differently, Mrs. Halliday, if it were your son who was threatening another boy. I don't want him to mess up his life or Val's."

"I guess I should be thankful that I have a girl," Della said, trying to be as exasperating as possible.

"I'm sure you should," Mrs. Ralston returned, by this time every inch the enemy that Della had determined her to be. Long experience in women's clubs armed Myrtle for her next shot.

"Thank you, Mrs. Halliday, for making your stand so clear in this matter. I had hoped we could cooperate with each other but I see I shall have to handle the situation alone. And I am very thankful that Cecily did give Steve back his pin. I am sure that her judgment is more reliable than her mother's!"

Her last remark, of course, was intended to make Della smart, but the information about the pin was the thunderbolt. Della was frantically telephoning me before the click of the Ralston connection ceased reverberating.

"I hope you're satisfied!" she railed. "Throwing that Marlin street brat at her every time she turned around. This is your doing! You've ruined her life!"

I SIMPLY couldn't help it. I burst out laughing.

"Oh, it's all right for you to laugh!" Della sputtered, even more enraged. "You never wanted anything better for Corinna! But there's only one boy in this town good enough for Cecily and that's Steve Ralston. And if she wants him she's going to have him—whether you and Myrtle Ralston like it or not!"

"Apparently she doesn't want him," I pointed out.

"Certainly she does! Why would she want that gardener of yours? Steve is better looking, he has more money—"

"Della," I cut in, "I'm not opposed to Cecily's marrying Steve—I like him. But his mother is right. They're both too young—"

"I'd rather have her married young to the right boy than wait so long she has to grab anything she can get—"

I laughed again. "There's no danger of that—not with Cecily. Let her alone, Della. She'll be in love a dozen times before she settles down."

She cut me off without goodby just as Cecily came in to her, tear-stained and defiant. Della did not wait to hear her woes.

"Well, little Missy!" she greeted her. "Your great-great-grandfather who owned a plantation and was ambassador to France and never knew what it was to lift a hand for himself to the longest day he lived—he'd be very proud of you today—getting yourself mixed up with that playground flunky!"

Cecily, accustomed all her years to Della's approbation of her high-handedness, was beyond speech at this betrayal. She merely waited tensely, her eyes talking back to Della's, unprepared by any previous training to retract a word of what she had said earlier.

Cavanaugh, , Weds Kenneth eck on Saturday

Miss Helen Cavanaugh, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cavanaugh, of Polo, and niece of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Scott of Rock Falls, and Kenneth Beck of Ashton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Beck, of Ramsey, were united in marriage at nine o'clock Saturday morning in St. Mary's church rectory in Polo. The Rev. James Buck officiating with the double ring ceremony.

The lovely bride wore a silver gray dress with dusty rose accessories and a single strand of pearls, the bridegroom's gift. A white orchid formed her corsage.

Miss Grace Young of Polo, close friend of the bride and her maid of honor, was attired in a white eyelet dress with white accessories. Pink camellias were in her bouquet.

Harold Cavanaugh, the bride's brother, was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests took place in the Cavanaugh home, where the decorations were bouquets of beautiful gladioli and garden flowers. Assisting with the reception were Miss Betty Vaile of Dixon, who had charge of the bride's book; Miss Florence Wilson of Polo, poured and Miss Jane Scott of Rock Falls, cousin of the bride, who served. Mrs. Clyde Scott cut the beautiful three tiered wedding cake which was baked by Mrs. Marion Van Nuys of Dixon, a family friend.

The bridegroom's mother attended the wedding in a brown and white sheer dress with black accessories. The bride's aunt, Mrs. Scott, wore a black sheer suit with twhite accessories and another aunt, Mrs. Mary McCastle of Oconomowoc, Wis., was in white linen with white accessories. Their corsages were camellias.

Mrs. Beck was graduated from Polo Community high school in 1941. Mr. Beck is a veteran of World War II and spent three years in the South Pacific.

After a honeymoon trip of two weeks to Canada, the newlyweds will reside in Ashton, where they have furnished an apartment.

Guests at the reception included relatives and friends from Ramsey, Vandalia, Rockford, Sterling, Ashton, Rock Falls, Dixon and Oconomowoc, Wis.

Cpl. Warren Baker and Bride With Attendants

ROBERT C. KRUG AND MRS. LEONA HEPFER SAY VOWS AUGUST 2

Grace Evangelical church was the scene of a simple but impressive wedding ceremony Friday evening, August 2, at 7 p. m. when Robert C. Krug, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Krug of 311 North Ottawa avenue, and Mrs. Leona Hepfer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Woodyatt of 812 East Chamberlin street, exchanged nuptial vows before the Rev. George Nielsen, in a single ring ceremony. The church was decorated with huge baskets of peach and white gladiolii and lighted tapers. Mrs. Ada Jasper, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly." Mrs. Fred Kraehler, organist, played the traditional wedding marches.

The bride chose a two-piece ice-blue linen suit with white accessories and pearl necklace, gift of the bridegroom. A corsage of yellow roses and stephanotis was pinned to her shoulder. Mrs. Leonard Woodyatt, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and wore a yellow gabardine suit with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and stephanotis

Leonard Woodyatt, twin brother of the bride, served as best man and Clinton Woodyatt, brother of the bride, was usher.

The bride's mother wore a black dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gladiolii Mrs. Krug was attired in a pearl grey and white silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of white gladiolii.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a motor trip to northern Wisconsin lakes and will be at home at 625 North Ottawa avenue after August 10.

The bride is employed at Ware's Hardware store and her husband, who spent five years in the Army Air Corps, 22 months of which were spent in England, is a painter and decorator with Edward Thompson.

Out of town guests included: Mrs. W. D. Drew of Deroit, Mich., grandmother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Richard Lang of Detroit, Mich., aunt of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mangan and son, John and Mrs. W. R. Tarner of Sterling.

Dixonites Applaud Maxwell, Landers

Dixon people who attended and are still talking about the Rock River Valley Music Festival in Sterling Friday evening are loudest in their praises of two outstanding individuals connected with the presentation—Phil Maxwell, director of the Chicago Music Festival, and Maj. George Landers of Clarinda, Ia., dean of American bandmasters.

Mr. Maxwell, who is the inspirational source of all music festivals in the Chicagoland, lends his expert assistance and forceful personality to all such events staged in the midwest, and many friends were on hand Friday evening to extend their best wishes and congratulations.

"Bandsmen's Bandsman"

Mr. Landers, who appeared on the program as the director of several band selections, is a "bandsmen's bandman," and long has been loved by all musicians who have known him.

He more than any other person, is responsible for the Iowa band law, which has spread to all the other states and several foreign countries. This law provides municipal financial aid to bands and has probably been the only means whereby that grand old American institution—the "Town Band"—has been kept alive.

Liquor Group Hits at Unlicensed Operators

Chicago, Aug. 6 — (AP)—Approximately 1,250 Illinois tave n operators including 900 in the Chicago area, have failed to obtain state retail liquor licenses, Chairmen Charles J. Fleck of the Illinois Liquor Control commission reports.

Fleck said the commission's field investigators have been instructed to issue arrest notices for the delinquent operators. A $50 penalty can be assessed for each day of unlicensed operation, Fleck added.

George Webber, of Viola township, chairman of the board of supervisors and the board of review, went to Knoxville today to attend the annual Knox county fair. This afternoon he is driving his pacer G. R. W. in the racing program at the fair. He was accompanied to Knoxville by Wellington Chaon of West Brooklyn.

Revenue Fund Grows—

The state treasury's general revenue fund increased $6,763,407 in July to a total of $174,668,162, Treasurer Conrad F. Becker reported today. Payment of insurance, corporation and liquor fees and taxes accounted for the gain, Becker said.

New Doctor on Staff—

Dr. T. B. Merywaniy, bacteriologist, Chicago, is the newest addition to the staff at the Dixon State hospital, having taken up his duties there last month. A graduate of Northwestern university, Dr. Merywaniy has served previously at the Illinois Masonic hospital, Chicago, and Evanston hospital.

Grasshopper Plague—

Champaign, Ill. Aug. 6.—(AP)—A grasshopper outbreak in the western and southwestern portions of the state was reported today by H. B. Petty, extension entomologist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. Current outbreaks were rated as serious and eventually might cause damage to the corn and soybean crops as far north as Monmouth on the western side of the state, officials said.

Dog Attends Wedding—

Davenport, Ia., Aug. 6.—(AP)—In an unusual wedding ceremony here Monday, Miss Jean Strickland, daughter of Thomas J. Strickland, of Rock Island, became the bride of J. K. Phipps, Jr. The bride was escorted down the church aisle by her father, who is blind, and his seeing-eye dog. The dog was appropriately attired for the occasion with garlands of flowers around his neck.

Training Class To Meet—

A regular meeting of the Lincoln Obedience training classes for dogs will take place this evening at 7 o'clock. Members will meet at the home of Theodore Gaul, 724 East Morgan street, acting chairman of the club. Training will take place about one block east of the former field. New members and visitors are invited to attend. At this evening's meeting the club organization and election of officers will take place. R. T. Allen of the Craighdeer kennels of Rockford will be the training instructor.

Restrictions In Effect—

Chief of Police Gilbert Glessner announced this morning that enforcement of the 90 minute parking regulation on Second street from Peoria to Ottawa avenues will become effective tomorrow morning and warned local motorists that the regulations will be strictly enforced. Installation of the parking regulation signs along Second street in this zone has now been completed. The move was made recently as a means of releiving the congested traffic conditions in the business district.

expense or otherwise."

Prepare Questions

Nevertheless, the committee was understood to be preparing to question May—when his health permits him to appear—about the reasons for an the expenses of the reported Florida trip at a period when war department witnesses have testified the house military committee chairman was exerting "special pressure" in behalf of the Garsson companies.

Committee records indicate that May also will be asked to explain his letters of April 12 and May 2, 1945 to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower concerning court martial proceedings against Capt. Joseph Herman Garsson. In his April 12 letter, May described Murray Garsson, the captain's father, as "one of my warm personal friends."

The court martial found Captain Garsson guilty of refusing to obey an order in the field but recommended clemency, a recommendation that Eisenhower accepted.

Associations Scrutinized

May's social associations with the Garssons, such as his attendance at the Garsson-Klebenov wedding in New York City, Jan. 2, 1944, as well as his dealings with the combine and the Cumberland Lumber Company are expected to be the subject of extensive questions when the Kentucky congressman appears before the senate committee.

This may be after Sept. 1, although Chairman Mead (D-NY) said the committee will know more about that Friday when Warren Magee, May's attorney, has been directed to report on his client's health. May is ill at his home in Prestonburg, Ky.

As an offshoot of its war proits inquiry, Mead said the committee may send a group to Europe this summer to determine whether any scarce items such as autos, trucks and bulldozers ought to be returned to this country instead of being sold abroad as surplus.

U. S. TO JOIN SUIT

Chicago, Aug. 6.—(AP)—John P. Lulinski, assistant U. S. attorney, said today he would ask Federal Judge William J. Campbell for permission for the government to join in a petition for receivership now pending against Batavia Metal Products, Inc.

Lasa Friday six creditors of companies of Batavia and a subsidiary, the Challenge Co., filed suits asking that the two firms be declared bankrupt and that receivers be appointed.

Lulinski said the Batavia firm owes the government at least $1,000,000 in over-payments on war contracts. He said the figure was based on audits now being made.

Authorization to apply for permission to join in the petition was received last night from Attorney General Tom C. Clark, Lulinski said.

Both Batavia Metal Products and the Challenge Co., are part of the Garsson munitions combine now under investigation by a senate committee.

Heirens Confesses

Degnan?"

Heirens replied, the prosecutor added, "Yes, sir."

On Sixth Question

The question was the sixth propounded by the prosecutor at a "confession conference" in his office arranged by Heirens' attorneys.

Heirens' attorneys announced prior to a similar "confession conference" arranged a week ago that the youth also would confess the "lipstick" slaying last Dec. 10 of Frances Brown, 33-year-old former WAVE, and the fatal stabbing June 2 of Mrs Josephine Ross, 43-year-old widow.

The earlier conference was upset when Heirens replied "I don't remember" to all pertinent questions.

Nation Was Shocked

The Degnan slaying shocked the nation with its brutality. The golden-haired daughter of a Chicago OPA executive was stolen from her bed by an abductor who left a note demanding $20,000 ransom.

The victim's father, James Degnan, made a series of radio broadcasts pleading with her abductor "Don't harm her, she's only a little girl," but the same night police found the parts of her dismembered body in sewers in ne: north side neighborhood.

Heirens related today, the prosecutor said, that he cut her body in pieces with a hunting knife which he later threw on the elevated tracks near her home.

Knife Recently Recovered

The knife was recovered recently.

After he dismembered the body and distributed the pieces in nearby sewers, he related, he went to his south side room, studied his homework and then went to his morning classes at the University of Chicago.

The youth contended he was in a sort of daze when he killed and dismembered the little girl. In disposing of parts of the body, he said, a heavy iron cover dropped on his finger and "it woke me up a little bit."

He said after he disposed of the body he returned to a basement laundry room where he had dismembered the girl. He said:

"After I got back to the basement, I seen there was blood in the tub there. I had some inkling of what happened. I realized—I didn't know the exact facts of what happened until later, I read about it.

"I washed up what there was and cleaned it up. And then it dawned on me something must have happeed to the child."

He said he wrote the ransom note in the basement where the girl was cut to pieces after he had disposed of the body.

Highlights of Statement

Following are highlights from the statement made today by Heirens:

(Heirens, a student, has been indicted on charges of murdering Suzanne Degnan, 6-year-old kidnaping victim, on Jan. 7 and Miss Frances Brown, 33, a former Wave, on Dec. 10. The defendant's attorney said he also would make a statement on the killing of Mrs. Josephine Ross, 43, on June 3, 1945.

(The statement began with a routine recitation of Heirens' name, address, age.)

Q. (By Tuohy) Now calling your attention to Jan. 7, 1946, early Monday morning, did you on that date kidnap and murder Suzanne Degnan? A. Yes, sir.

Disposed of Girl's Body

Q. What did you do with the body? A. The body was—part of that is not clear to my memory but as things stand I have the knowledge it was deposited in different sewers in the neighborhood

Q. Did you cut it up before you put it in the different sewers? A. To my knowledge, yes, it was cut up when it was put in the sewers.

Q. What kind of an instrument did you use to cut it with? A. A knife was used.

Q. What did you do with the knife? A. It was deposited on an elevated station—not an elevated station but the elevated tracks.

Q. Did you deposit it in a particular place or just throw it? A. I threw it.

Went Back to School

Q. Then where did you go? A. Back to school.

Q. What time did you get back at school? A. Six o'clock.

Q. In the morning? A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go when you got back there? A. I went back to my room.

Q. Did you go to bed? A. No, I stayed up and studied.

Q. How long after you disposed of the last part of the body was it before you threw the knife away? A. Oh, I would say an hour and a half.

Q. What did you do for an hour and a half after you disposed of the last part of the body? A. Well, to my knowledge—well, what I know myself, from what I remember myself, the last part of the body was disposed—I don't know. I think they were the arms.

They (the arms) were disposed of near Broadway, on the other side, on the west side of the El (elevated railroad) and that is the time when the cover fell down on my finger, and it woke me up a little bit, and I remember from there on practically everything, vaguely, but everything

Hurt Woke Him Up

Q. After the cover fell on your finger, when you disposed of the arms, did you then go immediately to the Glenlake El station? A. No, there is no Glenlake El station.

Q. What El station? A. Then I went—I am not too sure of this, but I am quite sure I went directly back to the basement, because to my recollection I was in the basement.

Q. What basement did you go back to? A. To the place where the cutting up was supposed to have taken place

Q. It is in a basement in an apartment building on Winthrop avenue, is it? A. Yes.

Q. And would it be in the 5900 block? A. It is south of the Degnan home.

Cleaned up Basement

Q. When you got back to the basement, what did you do? A. When I got back to the basement I seen there was blood in the tub there. I had some inkling of what happened. I realized I didn't know the exact facts what happened until later I read about it, and it was made known to me that way but what I knew of it, then I realized something terrible happened. I washed up what was there and cleaned it up, and then it dawned on me something must have happened to the child. The last thing I remember I was with the child and after a while—after I disposed of the bag—I was holding it I remember like that, and while I was there the thing was on the edge and is dropped down and it caught my finger and I woke up to the fact.

Q. That is when you were putting the arms in the sewer? A. Yes.

Q. You knew you were putting arms in the sewer? A. No, I didn't know what they were.

Q. Were the arms in a bag? A. Whatever it was was in a bag.

Q. You had made other trips to other sewers before that and put parts of the body in other sewers? A. That is what I don't know whether I did or not, but from what I put together that is what happened. By my knowledge I do not know anything previous to where I dropped that thing on my finger.

Q. you remember writing the ransom note? A. That was after.

Q. When did you write that note? A. In the basement.

Q. Was that after you disposed of the body? A. Yes.

Q. Which basement did you write the ransom note in? A. The basement where the blood was.

Q. Where the body was cut up? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, now, tell us how you happened to write that ransom note? A. It came into my head that I had done something as I told you before and I realized it must have been the child, and I didn't address the note because I didn't know the name of the people, so, to relieve the parents in all way possible I could, would be to give them some hope the child was alive and that was the manner in which I wrote it.

Q. Had you been carrying that sheet of paper (on which the note was written) around in your pocket? A. Yes.

Q. How did you happen to pick out this particular house in which Suzanne Degnan lived as a place to commit a crime? A. Because of the low window.

energy project and construction of access roads to timber lands.

As an example of the drain the federal program might impose on supplies if it were carried out in full, a CPA official said it would take about 27 per cent of the entire supply of cement and around three per cent of the total lumber output.

In calling for postponement or elimination of projects, Steelman urged federal agencies making loans or grants to state and local groups "to seek their cooperation in postponing public works construction wherever this can be done without jeopardizing health safety or essential services."

Among these federal agencies are the Public Roads Administration, which makes dollar-for-dollar grants for public highways, and the Civil Aeronautics Administration, which makes similar grants for airport construction

Whether these projects will be included among those affected must await agency reports due to go to Steelman by Sept. 30.

The remainder of the shells on hand will be shot Thursday eevning, Aug. 8 which will be the last shoot until after the Grand American handicap, Aug. 16 through Aug. 24 at Vandalia, Ohio.

Greece Bars UN Bid of Albanians for Entry

New York, Aug. 6—(AP)—Albania's Soviet-supported bid for membership in the United Nations was bitterly opposed today by Greece, which charged that Albania could not qualify in the role of a peace-loving state as required by the U.N. charter.

The application remained under the critical examination of the security council's membership committee, meeting in closed session at 9:30 a.m. (CDT) with prospects that it would bring about another sharp conflict between Russia and the western powers.

Russia and Poland were reported backing Albania's bid without qualification The United States and Great Britain reserved judgment, although both have levied sharp criticism at the regime of Premier Enver Hoxha.

An American delegation spokesman said Hoxha had refused to give Washington assurance that his Peoples Republic would honor treaties negotiated between the United States and the previous Albanian government before the war, thus raising a question as to Hoxha's readiness to accept the obligations of U. N. membership.

Britain also questioned the peace-loving qualities of Albania on several counts.

Allies Execute Jap for Beheading U. S. Fliers

Tokyo, Aug. 6—(AP)—Shunio Tomono, a member of Japan's dreaded "thought police" has been hanged for beheading two American fliers. The announcement was received today from the Southeast Asia command at Singapore.

The Americans were identified as Sgt. Allen Nicks and T/Sgt. Joseph A. Demaria, addresses unknown, whose B-24 crashed near Cholon, French Indo-China June 12, 1945. The two, only survivors taken prisoner, were beheaded by Tomono the following month.

Second Division Is Boon to Bums; Top Braves With Rally

Phils, Braves Poison to Cubs, Cardinals, But Can's Stop Brooks

(By The Associated Press)

Brooklyn's ability to defeat the Boston Braves and the Philadelphia Phillies with almost monotonous regularity continues and Manager Leo Durocher has the knack of yanking a faltering moundsman at the right time.

With 101 games under their belt, the Brooks enjoy a 2½ game margin over the second place St Louis Cardinals in the National league but only 33 complete games have been turned in by the Dodger hurling crew, 26 of them victories.

Pitching is Shaky

In 68 Dodger contests, Durocher employed 202 hurlers in bagging 36 victories and losing 32 Little Vic Lombardi leads the Dodger hurlers in turning in complete games, with 11

The Brooks have thumped the Phils ten in a row and have taken the Braves 12 times against only three defeats The sixth place New York Giants have won six ou tof 11 games from the Brooks The Dodgers have won 11 out of 17 from the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates and ten out of 17 from the Cincinnati Reds

The St Louis Red Birds have copped 11 battles and lost four while the Chicago Bruins have won nine and dropped seven with the Brooks However both the Cards and Cubs have had plenty of difficulty winning from the second division clubs

Rally Top Braves

The Dodgers pulled another game out of the fire last night as they trimmed the Braves, 7-4 before a total paid attendance of 41 651, the largest at Braves Field in more than 13 years

Trailing 3-1 in the fourth, the Dodgers surged ahead in the fifth by scoring five runs on a three-run homer by Pee Wee Reese and a two-run circuit clout by Dixie Walker

Rookie Southpaw Joe Hatten started for the Dodgers but lasted less than three innings Hank Behrman and Ralph Branca finished up allowing only one run Branca received credit for the win

Mort Cooper began for Boston but blew up in the fifth

In an exhibition contest at New York, the Giants dropped a 3-2 decision to the New York Yankees and also lost the services of Johnny Mize the Senior loop's top home run hitter for two to three weeks Mize suffered a fractured right hand when struck by a pitched ball by Joe Page in the first inning

Welland Gains 13-1 Win at Fr. Grove

Pounding out 16 hits and taking advantage of seven Franklin Grove errors, Welland moved to an easy 13 to 1 victory over cellar dwelling Franklin Grove Sunday in an Eastern division contest behind the steady 7-hit pitching of E Schmidt.

Welland pounded the offerings of Bucker and Hunt steadily as they put together one of their best offensive shows of the season Foulk, with three singles in five trips, led the attack, while Barnickel, E. Kromm, Frank, E. Schmidt and H Schmidt garnered two safeties each.

Schmidt amassed eight strike outs and gave up only two bases on balls, scattering the losers hits effectively

Buc Chief May Stay With Pittsburgh Club

Pittsburgh Aug 6—(AP)—President Bill Benswanger of the Pittsburg National league baseball club said today he would not leave the Pirates if the team is sold to Frank E McKinney, Indianapolis banker

'Mr McKinney asked me to stay with the club on a recent visit here," said Benswanger, who has held the president's robe for 14 years "I told him I would not desert him"

At Boston, asked to comment on the report that he will buy the Pirates for $2,250,000 on Thursday, McKinney merely said that if he bought the Pittsburgh team he would have to dispose of the minority interest he owns in the Boston Braves

Benswanger said that he did not know what position he would hold should McKinney buy the club.

Lee Shatters Flag Hopes of Compton

Compton's hopes of catching the high-flying Roberts & Hess team leaders in the Eastern division flag race, were knocked into a cocked hat Sunday when Lee blasted the second placers with a 19-hit onslaught to hand Compton its worst beating of the season 17-7

It was the third defeat of the campaign for Compton and practically erased their chances of catching the leaders, who are moving along with a dozen wins in 13 starts

Lee blasted the ball to all corners during the afternoon knocking Dennis out early and finishing up on Matekitis Derr was their offensive start with a triple and two singles in five trips to the plate

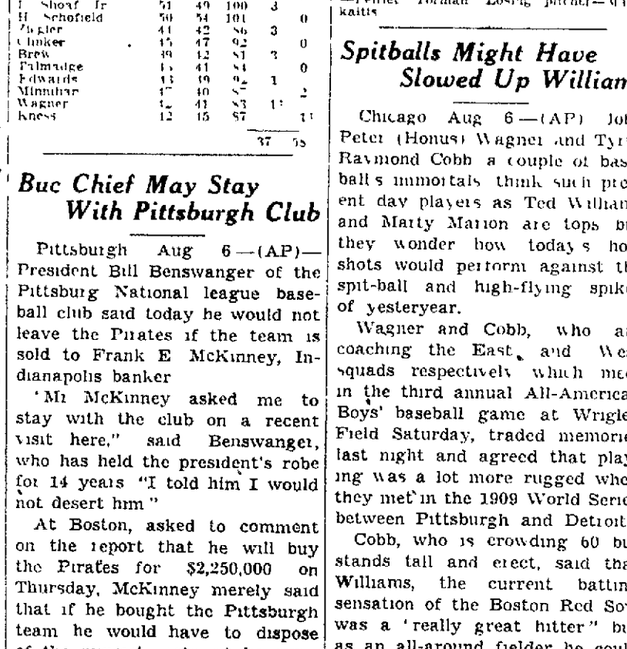
Spitballs Might Have Slowed Up Williams

Chicago Aug 6—(AP) John Peter (Honus) Wagner and Tyrus Raymond Cobb a couple of baseball's immortals think such present day players as Ted Williams and Marty Marion are tops but they wonder how today's hotshots would perform against the spit-ball and high-flying spikes of yesteryear.

Wagner and Cobb, who are coaching the East and West squads respectively which meet in the third annual All-American Boys' baseball game at Wrigley Field Saturday, traded memories last night and agreed that playing was a lot more rugged when they met in the 1909 World Series between Pittsburgh and Detroit

Cobb, who is crowding 60 but stands tall and erect, said that Williams, the current batting sensation of the Boston Red Sox, was a 'really great hitter" but as an all-around fielder he could take lessons from a few old-time greats.

Both Cobb and Wagner expressed doubt that Williams could take his famed whip-like cut at the ball, if rival pitchers were shooting spit-balls, emory-balls or 'any other tricky pitch that used to frighten batters"



Two Big Twilight Matches on Tap; Settle Flag Battle

Two games, one of them that oft-postponed, all-important playoff contest between the State hospital and Reynolds, which will decide the first half championship are on the card for tonight in the Twilight league here.

Roberts & Hess goes after its third victory in the second half race against the Merchants at Reynolds field in the other attraction this evening, with Amboy drawing this week's bye.

Tonight marks the third attempt Reynolds and the State hospital have made to play off their first half postponement On all previous occasions the weather man has intervened.

Reynolds, after chasing Roberts & Hess throughout the entire first half flag race, caught them and passed them on the final day of the schedule when the Emmertmen handed Roberts & Hess a 5-0 lacing. That victory shoved Reynolds to the top of the percentage tables with four victories in five starts just ahead of Roberts & Hess with a record of five wins and two losses But Reynolds still had one game postponed earlier in the race, with the State hospital remaining

If Reynolds falters tonight at the hospital and loses they will drop back to second behind Roberts & Hess A victory will cement their claim to the flag

Meanwhile Roberts & Hess will be endeavoring to gain a little ground on Reynolds in the second half standings when they face the Merchants tonight at Reynolds field The R-H squad has two victories in three second half starts thus far while Reynolds is as yet undefeated

Walton Tops Ohio in 2-0 Mound Duel

Walton continued its march toward the Western division title in the Midwest league scramble winning a brilliant pitching duel from Ohio at Walton Sunday, 2 to 0 to keep pace with the circuit's second place rivals in the stretch drive

Spoljt stopped Ohio on a ration of two hits one f them an infield fller and fanned 10 men yet the route He had perfect control, issuing no passes Frank Powers also pitched brilliantly holding the league leaders to four hits while issuing only one pass and whiffing four.

Walton scored in the fourth on singles by Croissant and Freil and a fielder's choice. They picked up their second run in the seventh when Don Welty was hit by a pitched ball stole second and advanced to third on a passed ball then scored on an infield out

Ohio threatened in the eighth when a hit and an error put men on second and third, but Spoljt tightened to strike out two men and forced the third man to pop up

First State Fair Since 1941 Opens at Capital Friday

Million Expected to Attend Prairie Pageant This Year

Springfield, Ill.—(AP) — The first Illinois state fair since 1941 will open here Friday for a 10 day stand. More than a million persons are expected to attend the 90th exposition at the 366 acre fair grounds north of Springfield.

The fair wasn't held during the war when the site was used by the army air forces as a supply depot. Months of work in remodeling the grounds has been completed and 77 permanent buildings have been repaired and painted.

Thousands of exhibits will compete for $285,782 in premiums, which the state says is the largest prize list offered at any agricultural fair.

Entry Free for 3 Days

Admission to the grounds is free during the first three days but from Aug. 12 through Aug. 18 the charge will be 30 cents. Grandstand and other seats for harness horse, auto and motorcycle races, and horse and other shows will cost extra amounts.

Opening day will be Children's day. It will be followed by Youth day, Veterans' day, Army day, Navy day, Democratic da, Governor's (Republican) day, Farm Bureau day, Auto Race day, and Motorcycle Race day.

Carnival rides and shows will fill the "Happy Hollow" area on all 10 days.

More than 300,000 are expected to attend Veterans' day and watch exhibitions by drill teams, drum corps, and bands of veterans' groups from many cities. Cash prizes total $5,560.

Plan Democracy Parley

The Democratic state convention will be held Aug. 14 in conjunction with the party's speech making program at the fair.

Gov. Green and other state G. O. P. leaders will speak at the gathering of Republicans Aug. 15.

Purses totaling $126,000 will be offered during the five days of grand circuit harness racing Aug. 12 through 16 on the mile oval.

The auto races with competition wide open for $5,000 in prizes for 50 miles of short sprints and a 50 mile championship event, will show George Robson, 1946 Indianapolis 500 mile winner.

The nation's top motorcycle speedsters are entered in final day races for $3,000. More than 150 riders are listed.

Stock Show Featured

More than $1,000,000 worth of prize livestock will parade before the grandstand Aug. 16.

The traditionally popular horse show will be held for seven nights in the Coliseum. A dog show will be represented two days.

Grandstand stage presentations Aug. 12 through 17 include four acts nightly. Top flight vaudeville, opera, dance and acrobatic performers have been billed.

Each county will be represented by 120 young war brides in a special school with classes in marketing, budgeting, cooking, and baking Aug. 9 to 18.

Farm Children's Classes

Exhibit classes will be held for farm boys and girls. Children will have special playgrounds and a special hospital.

An automobile "thrill show" will be staged Aug. 9 and 10. A barn dance program is scheduled on the grandstand stage on the night of Aug. 10. The huge outdoor dance pavilion will operate eight nights. Bob Crosby and his orchestra will play.

Ten of the nation's champion barbershop quartets will conduct a song festival on the closing night, Aug. 18. A chorus of 700 voices will present a recital Aug. 16.

Many Special Exhibits

Special exhibits will include the $435,000 Colleen Moore doll house, 20,000 tropical insects, school work exhibits, replicas of famous American homes, 48 trailer truckloads of United States and Gehrman military equipment, and several nationally known radio shows.

A $2,000 air efficiency contest will be held Aug. 8-10, with 10 airplanes competing on a statewide tour.

All live poultry shows at the state and other Illinois fairs have been canceled because of mild outbreak of Newcastle disease caused by a contagious virus affecting bird brains and respiratory tracts. But other farm product competitions will go on as scheduled.

McMillin Tries Backs as All-Stars Practice

Vanston, Ill., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Head Coach Bo McMillin of Indiana began working on backfield combinations today to find the best scoring punch off the T formation for his College All-Stars against the Los Angeles Rams Aug. 23.

McMillin and one of his aids, Tuss McLaughry of Dartmouth, were pleased with the foursome of quarterback Al Dekdebrun of Cornell, halfbacks Monk Gafford of Auborn and J. T. Black of Mississippi State, and fullback Harvey Johnson of William and Mary. Big Bill Blackburn of Rice was used at center with this combination.

County Achievement Day

The County Achievement Day was held on Friday at the Farm Bureau auditorium in Amboy Elaine Schlesinger and Evelyn Hoelzer gave a demonstration on "Accessories."

At 12 o'clock the group gathered at the park where lunch was served, picnic style

The dress review was then featured and this was an especially outstanding review. As the girls garments were shown, representing every club in the county, it was quite a sight for all to witness. Then came the food and room improvements review, which was most attractive, offering all kinds of helpful suggestions for meals and home decorating. Mrs. Norman Dietrich, representing the Home Bureau, gave a special greeting to these 4-H girls on behalf of the Home Bureau. Special musical numbers and recitations were given, and these were all most entertaining. A report telling of the 4-H Junior Leadership camp was given with girls from several clubs taking part, and Evelyn Hoelzer from the local Wy-Lee 4-H club was one selected.

After the garments were judged, being thoroughly examined from every standpoint, Elaine Schlesingers suit was chosen to be shown at the state fair. Elaine was president of the Wy-Lee 4-H club. Beautiful corsages were awarded this year to all the 4-H club leaders in the county and Agnes Truckenbrod from the local club received one Lovely corsages were also awarded to Elaine and Evelyn Schlesinger and Evelyn Hoezer from the local club and to Eunice Hoelzer who helped judge the demonstrations
